

FACT SHEET

AVATRIAN

Avatrian is a full-service Second Life development shop and metaverse consulting firm. We deliver products and services for 3D online digital worlds. Our objective is to help businesses and individuals understand and utilize the power of virtual environments. Once purely in the domain of game and play, these new digital spaces have emerged to become viable platforms for social gathering and business transactions. Second Life and other metaverses are delivering world wide web functionality in a more engaging and highly intuitive 3D format. Establishing a successful presence and existing as a business entity in these new environments require many key elements to be in place. It is not easy to get started. But, we can simplify the process.

WHAT WE DO

- We identify the specific needs of an individual or company, and help them find out how to best utilize virtual world platforms to showcase their presence in the metaverse.
- We are directly involved in the creation process. We build, program, and develop content in virtual worlds in ways that are suitable for an interactive, effective and meaningful representation of an individual or company in these 3D environments.
- We can manage large-scale “from-the-ground-up” projects in Second Life for those looking for a one-stop shop solution for their presence in the metaverse.
- We constantly seek out new and innovative ways of harnessing the potential of these compelling environments by continued research, the development of novel ideas, and the implementation of fresh marketing strategies.

Work Highlights

FutureScape

FutureScape is a collection of highly imaginative buildings and structures in the Second Life platform. Fantasy, outer space living, and alien designs are given emphasis in the construction of the FutureScape line. A primary example is our company headquarters in Second Life...situated at the heart of the Avatrian Central sim.

Polygons Furniture

Modern furniture created with an eye for style and interior design. Many of the Polygons are also scripted in order to take on dynamic functions. In addition to construction, we also apply high-level texturing work in order to add a dimension of realism to our products.

The Terrain Factory

The Terrain Factory offers ready-made .raw terrain files for the terraformation of whole region simulators in Second Life. These terrain files provide simulator owners and estate managers with a non-standard landscape that fits the intended purpose of their virtual lands. If you wish to have your very own distinctive island, the Terrain Factory can also customize a terrain specific to your needs.

Dwelling Spaces

This is the commercial and mainstream architectural creations of Avatrian in the virtual world. It includes residential homes, office buildings, bridges, industrial complexes, and cityscapes that are inspired by today's most cutting edge designs. Some creations from our Dwelling Spaces line are also available for sale on a limited basis as a part of our virtual products.
